

ABSTRACT

Communicating Data Relating to a Site

Having One or More Visitor Destinations

- 5 A user is registered as a visitor to a site having one or more visitor destinations. After registration, the user is allowed to send and receive data relating to one or more of the visitor destinations (104) over a communications network (115). For example, a registered user may book an appointment at one of the destinations.